

I've decided to become a MUCKRAKING JOURNALIST and write newspaper stories that expose CORRUPTION and INJUSTICE!

Well, you might start by INVESTIGATING who keeps eating up all the PEANUT BUTTER! Here's ANOTHER empty jar!

GREAT IDEA! I just know it's those SNEAKY SQUIRRELS. I'll write it all up and use the COMPUTER to print COPIES...

AND... the VERY NEXT MORNING

Evidence, SHmevidence, eh? It looks like a certain reporter owes me SEVERAL DOZEN JARS of PEANUT BUTTER!!

HURRAH!
Journalistic justice PREVAILS!

WEATHER:
Still froggy

Errr...

Photo proves SQUIRRELS are INNOCENT! In a daring display of journalistic bravery, two squirrels risked everything to clear their names after they were unfairly accused of stealing several dozen jars of peanut butter. Using only a digital camera, they were able to sneak back in the kitchen at night to prove that nobody is surprised to find a greedy crow with a jar of peanut butter on its nose.
